CHED continues to get high approval and trust - survey

The Commission on Higher Education (CHED) thanks all educational stakeholders for working with the Commission to successfully implement education programs resulting in its inclusion among the Top 10 government agencies with high approval and trust ratings.

According to the 2022 PAHAYAG First Quarter Survey by PUBLiCUS Asia Inc., CHED ranked seventh among the most trusted government agencies with 41.8% trust rating and ninth among the highest approval ratings with 56.3%.

The survey was conducted from March 30-April 6, 2022. It is a nationwide purposive sampling survey of 1,500 respondents drawn from a research panel of thousands of Filipino registered voters.

The Armed Forces of the Philippines maintained its lead with 53.4% trust rating, followed by the Technical Education and Skills Development Authority with 49.9%; Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas, 45.9%; Philippine Air Force, 45.8%; Department of Education and the Department of Science and Technology, 41.9%.

The Department of Social Welfare and Development ranked eighth among the most trusted government agencies with 40.2%; Department of Tourism, 39% and Department of Public Works and Highways, 38.9%.

For this year, CHED has been continuously promoting equitable access and ensuring quality and relevance of higher education institutions and their programs.

To date, 1.6 million Filipino students are no longer paying tuition and miscellaneous fees in more than 200 public universities. Another 500,000 students get the Tertiary Education Subsidy (TES) to help with their other education needs. CHED has been aggressively pushing for the improvement of quality education through the SIKAP scholarship program for faculty members, building of SMART campuses, and internationalization of HEIs.

“Salamat sa CHED family sa inyong makabuluhang serbisyo sa publiko pati na rin sa lahat ng public and private higher education institutions sa inyong suporta sa aming mga programa. I thank Filipinos for their continued support to CHED as we continue to commit in delivering the services you need amid the COVID-19 pandemic,” De Vera said.
